About the Institute

MICG was established in March 1998 as a direct response to recommendations made by the government's High-Level Finance Committee on Corporate Governance.

The Institute was founded as a company limited by guarantee, with membership comprised of both corporate entities and individuals.

At its core, MICG is dedicated to advancing corporate governance and sustainability in Malaysia. This is achieved through a multifaceted approach that includes education, training, advocacy, advisory and assurance on corporate governance and sustainability.

Revolutionising Governance Through Digital Procurement

In an era defined by unprecedented change and complexity, the procurement landscape is undergoing a profound evolution. Companies worldwide are grappling with escalating pressures to fortify their governance frameworks, particularly in ESG practices. To thrive amidst this disruption, adaptation is not just an option—it's a necessity for survival.

Amidst mounting procurement costs and dynamic market forces, companies are compelled to seek innovative strategies to navigate the challenges ahead. The call for robust governance in procurement has never been more urgent, with digitalisation, procurement integrity, regulatory compliance (including e-invoicing), and the emergence of new ESG standards at the forefront of companies' agendas. Procurement agility has swiftly emerged as a linchpin for success, enabling companies to endure and excel in this swiftly shifting landscape.

Additionally, the digitalisation of procurement processes has introduced new complexities and risks. From cybersecurity threats to data privacy concerns, companies must navigate a minefield of challenges to ensure the integrity and security of their procurement operations. Moreover, the rapid pace of technological advancement requires organizations to continually adapt and innovate to remain competitive, further amplifying the pressure on procurement teams.

The National Procurement Conference is MICG's annual event, drawing corporate leaders, policymakers, directors, senior management, and procurement professionals from diverse industries in both the public and private sectors. It provides a platform for engaging discussions, allowing attendees to deepen their understanding of the latest global, regional, and local trends in procurement and the associated risks.

With distinguished speakers and industry experts from both local and international backgrounds, the conference offers unparalleled insights and expertise. We focus on helping companies explore ways to good governance and sustainability practices into their procurement practices while facilitating digital transformations for effective oversight, cost savings and business expansion.

Beyond its informative sessions, the conference fosters a dynamic networking, collaboration, and professional development environment. Attendees can also explore exhibition booths featuring products and services from leading corporations and procurement providers. This event is essential for companies and procurement professionals seeking to stay abreast of industry developments, exchange knowledge, and build valuable relationships in a supportive community.

Introducing our Strategic Collaborator

Established in 1999, Commerce Dot Com Sdn. Bhd. (CDC) has evolved into a leading procurement solutions provider in Malaysia. With a strong track record spanning over two decades, CDC has earned recognition for its innovative solutions and exceptional service delivery. This impressive track record is endorsed by the World Bank, underscoring CDC's role as a trusted partner in the field.

A pivotal achievement for CDC was the successful launch of its flagship product, ePerolehan, in 2000. Developed in partnership with the government, this web-based procurement system has transformed the government's purchasing processes, propelling the nation towards a digital economy. The impact of ePerolehan has been profound, streamlining government purchasing and contributing to Malaysia's ongoing digital transformation.

Through strategic diversification and innovative solutions, CDC not only embraces the future but also shapes it with integrity and innovation. Commerce Dot Com Sdn. Bhd. is a key contributor to Malaysia's journey toward a more transparent and prosperous digital economy.

CDC Procurement Solution

"Advancing Public Procurement"

In Malaysia, government procurement is facilitated through ePerolehan, a system connecting agencies to verified suppliers. Features such as Supplier Selection and Contract Management streamline the process. Continuously updated, the system aims to enhance efficiency, productivity, and cost-effectiveness for both government agencies and suppliers.
